TAKING OF TESTIMONY IN THE BU-CHANAN TRIAL ENDED.

Prof. Withhaus Interests the Jury by Jug-gling with Indel and Morphine, and Says He Has Studied Piomaines Since 1878— Deputy Sheriff John J. Lynch Diemissed. Both sides have concluded their testimony. have "rested," as the counsel expressed it, in the Buchanan murder trial, and the summing up will begin on Monday morning. It will be case to be submitted to the jury before dinner, if the strong hint given yesterday by Recorder Smyth has any effect on the counsel. The last day of taking evidence was largely devoted to expert rebuttal and aub-rebuttal, and was vastly uninteresting, except as to and was vasily uninteresting, except as to the chemical experiments made by Prof. withaus. He proceeded to demolish the ver-bal evidence of the Michigander. Prof. Vaughn. who said that the promains known as "indol" gave the same chemical reactions as does

Prof. Witthaus was supplied with a table. chemicals, test tubes, capsules, and all the eccessories required, and went about his tests with the neatness and despatch with which Herrmann handles a pack of cards. He experimented with indol, morphine, and a mixture of the two, and the way in which they would turn green, blue, yellow, orange, or brown, and would bubble, smoke, fuse, or isolate, as he predicted, was a marvel to the jurymen. every one of whom stood up to observe the modern John Wellington Wells. What he demontrated was that morphine gave the results he had obtained in his examination of Mrs. Bu-chanan's body, and that indol did not give such results. He was questioned as to the testimony offered by the defence, that one of his color tests in tubes was "clumsy and un-certain." To prove that such tests were re-certain." To prove that such tests were re-fined and absolutely certain, the witness made this experiment:

He took some water chemically freed from ammonia and put two samples in test tubes, to which were added respectively 1-1,000,000 and 15-1,000,000 parts of ammonia, the nec-essary reductions being made by the witness as he testified. He then showed the jury that even such a difference would respond to a color test, and as he demonstrated his prop-osition the jury regarded him with wondering eyes.

The defence sought to break the force of Prof. Withhaus's testimony by showing that he had used in his experiments indol produced from indigo, whereas the expert for the defence had used indol procured from a human body.

"What is the difference between indols so produced?" asked Mr. O'Sullivan.

"There can be no difference in two samples of the same chemical substance, equally pure, except a difference in quantity," answered the of the same chemical substance, equally pure, except a difference in quantity," answered the witness.

Notwithstanding this answer Prof. Vaughn was recalled by the defence, and he testified that indois variously procured gave varying chemical reactions.

Both Prof. Doremus and Prof. Witthaus testified, with a slightly bored manner, that they had not waited for Prof. Vaughn to precipitate in New York before they studied ptomaines. "I have been studying ptomaines since 1878," said Prof. Witthaus.

Beeldes this expert testimony there was some rebuttal evidence on the part of the people about the spoon with which the defendant gave his wife doses of medicine. He testified that it was a child's toy spoon. Mrs. Brockway and Mrs. Childs had testified that it was an ordinary teaspoon.

Then both sides announced that they rested. Mr. Brocke asked the District Attorney to designate on which of the two counts of the indictment on statutory grounds. That being denied. Mr. Brocke asked the District Attorney to designate on which of the two counts of the indictment he would ask for a verdict. Mr. Nicoli designated the second count, which does not specify the poison which it is alleged the defendant administered to his wife.

The Recorder then asked the jury to be patient until Monday, as he did not think it would be fair to the defendant to require Mr. Brocke to proceed at that late hour with his summing up. The summing up will begin at 10 o'clock on Monday morning.

John J. Lynch, one of the deputy sheriffs who has been assigned to conduct Dr. Buchanan between the Tombs and the Court House, was dismissed by Sheriff Gorman yesterday. Lynch, it is charged, while returning Buchanan to the Tombs on Monday, went with him into a saloon, where they remained drinking with witness Drasch for an hour. Buchanan yesterday denied this. He said that he entered the saloon to speak to a friend, but did not drink.

MR. HADDOCK ASKS FOR DIVORCE. n His Wife Has Terrorised Him

Norwalk, Conn., April 21.—Papers have just been served in a divorce suit brought by John W. Haddock against Emmeline Haddock. They Haddock is a retired New Yorker and has an income of $5,000 a year. The couple were married eleven years ago. Mr. Haddock alleges in the complaint that his wife "on divers days between Jan. 1, 1800, and the date of this was guilty of intolerable cruelty to the plain-Two weeks ago Haddock was arrested on a

Two weeks ago Haddock was arrested on a grand juvor's complaint and tried before Justice Mather of Darlen for assaulting his wife. The story told by Mrs. Haddock in court was that on a Sunday afternoon Haddock charged her with having come home from New York in an intoxicated condition with a woman living near by. Later, while standing at a window with her back to her husband, he shoved her into a corner and pressed her down with his knee into a chair, and cut her wrist with a hook. She took refuge in a neighbor's house. At another time her husband threw her, unconscious, into a snowbbank, and when she resovered a dog was licking her face. Haddock alleges that his wife has frequently driven him from the house with red-hot irons, a pistol, or a knife, and has threatened to murder him several times.

AN EDITOR KNOCKED OUT.

An Ex-Justice of the Peace Badly Punishes Mr. White of Platbush,

There was a lively scrap yesterday in the office of the Supervisor, a weekly publication in the town of Flatbush. The principals were Editor George White and Thomas H. Glass, an ex-Justice of the Peace and now keeper of the Town Hall. Mr. Glass had been stirred up ly some pointed references to him in the last issue of the paper, and he called on the editor for an explanation. Mr. White not only re-fused to explain, but ordered the visitor out of the office. He enforced the mandate by plant-ing a stinging right-hand blow in Mr. Glass's lett sys.

Mr. Glass retaliated by flooring the editor with a left-hand swing on the side of the with a left-hand swing on the side of the head. After the fight, of which this was the first round, the editor's face was a sight to behold, both eyes being blackened and his nose cut and bleeting. One of the spectators said he counted a dozen clean knock-downs to Mr. tiles's credit. Mr. Glass did not escape unscathed. One of his eyes was blackened, his lip was out, and the knuckes of his right hand hadly chipped. Each man visited neighboring drugglists to have their damages repaired. White is the editor who was horsewhipped a month or more are by Miss Annie Hemmings for saying things in his paper which she shought reflected on her.

Says He's Minister Fgan's Nephew.

Between 8 and 9 o'clock on Thursday night Policeman McGowan of the West Forty-seventh street police station found a ten-year-old or on West Forty-second street, near the weehawken Ferry, drenched with the rain and shivering with cold. At the police station he said he was Thomas Egan of 253 Griddy street. Albany, and that he was a nephew of Patrick Egan, United States Minister to Chill. He had run away from home that morning, and managed to reach here over the West Enore Railroad.

In the Yorkville Police Court yesterday merning the boy was turned over to the care of the Gerry Society.

Fire Engines in Broadway.

The old three-story building, owned by the sevelt estate, on the northwest corner of Broadway and Thirteenth street, was on fire yesterday for the tenth time. The flames yesterday for the tenth time. The flames started on the Thirteenth street side in the lear of Bouvé Crawford & Co's shoe store. They rapidly reached the roof, and swept through L. C. Parkinson's photograph gallery. The total loss will exceed $5,000, and most of that was by water. Mrs. Mary Wilkins, 80 lears old of Brocton, Mass., who was staying in the St. Denis Hotel, was struck by a solash of water from Engine 5's hose and fell to the sidewalk. Sho received a severe abrasion of the forehead.

TRAINS OLD AND NEW.

The New York Central's Interesting Exhibit for the World's Fair. The New York Central Railroad has an exhibition in the annex of the Grand Central Station, an exact reproduction of the De Witt Clinton, the first locomotive constructed in this country, and the coaches it drew on its first trip. They are for exhibition at the World's Fair. The original De Witt Clinton, the first locomotive run in New York State, was built at the West Point Foundry, at the foot of Beach street, in 1831.

The engine, which weighed only six tons, was run on trial trips on the Mohawk and Hudson Railroad at various times from July 2, 1831, until Aug. 9, when the first regular excursion trip from Albany to Schenectady was made. Old prints of the trip are still extant which show Thurlow Weed and others who were on the train standing in the coaches with their hats off, waving their hands above

The coaches are diminutive affairs compared with the modern Wagner palaces, and resemble in size and shape the old-fashioned stage coach. They are hung on immensa leather straps instead of springs, and when in motion rock like ships at sea. Each coach has seate rock like ships at sea. Each coach has seats for six passengers, and is provided with a rack for baggage and a boot at each end. On top are two seats for the driver, or brakeman. The cost of the coaches, according to the specifications of the manufacturer, was $310 apiece. Alongside of this train at the Fair will be exhibited a modern passenger locomotive just built to draw the Empire State express. With this will be five new Wagner palace cars, consisting of a drawing room, dining, sleeping, baggage, and observation car, each of which contains all the conveniencies and luxuries that money and taste combined are capable of producing. The engine, which is No. 969, was built at the New York Central shops at West Albany, under the supervision of James Buchanan, from specifications and designs furnished by William Buchanan, superintendent of motive power and rolling stock of the Central Company. The designer claims that the engine is capable of drawing the five coaches at a rate of speed close upon 100 miles an hour.

Her four driving wheels are each 7 feet 2 inches in diameter, and the cliinders 19 inches in diameter, and the cliinders. The total weight of engine and tender, when loaded, is 102 tons. The whole train weighs 302 tons. The boiler is 58 inches in diameter, and contains 298 two-inch flues. The heating surface in the fire box is 1,900 square feet, with a grate aurface of 30 7-10 square feet. The indicated horse power is 1,100.

On Monday this train will start for Chicago by the North Shore route. Its sister exhibit will be loaded on flat cars to make the trip, although the old trucks are standard gauge. Until Monday both these exhibits will remain in the annex for public inspection. for six passengers, and is provided with a

Green Convicted of Manalaughter

Clarence Green, colored, who shot his uncle Samuel Woolsey, in Garden's saloon, 221 East Ninety-seventh street, on Feb. 6, was found guilty of manelaughter in the second degree before Justice Ingraham in the Court of Oyer and Terminer yesterday. Two of the jurymen, who were for acquittal, were won over during the night. Green was remanded until Monday for sentence. The extreme penalty is ton years.

At a conference of the Park Commissioners with representatives of the Society of Sons of the Bevolution yesterday it was decided to erect the statue to Nathan Hale at the Chambers street and Broadway corner of the City Hall Park, next June even though such location may be only temporary.
